Reciprocal Relations.

In response to the letters sent to the various Commercial Clubs of the state, The Garland Commercial Club has received the following communications in relations to exchange of courtesies:

Provo, Utah, March 21, 1906.

Gentlemen:—Your communication of the 16th inst. duly received and read before the Club at their regular meeting held last evening.

Upon the unanimous resolution of the club I am directed to advise you that we are heartily in favor of your movement for reciprocal relations with your club and its members; believing as set forth in your letter that same will be the mutual advantage of all club members of both our clubs and any other club with whom this arrangement is entered into.

Yours very respectfully,
Julius C. Anderson,
Secretary.

Lehi, Utah, March 26, 1906.

Garland Commercial Club,
Garland, Utah,

Gentlemen:

In reply to your invitation of the 16th inst. inviting reciprocal relationship between the Garland and Lehi Commercial Clubs, I am instructed to accept the invitation and express the kindly feeling which is held here towards the organization in Garland.

Every privilege of a fraternal nature will gladly be extended to members of the Garland club when visiting our city. In return we shall appreciate the reciprocal treatment suggested in your letter. May the spirit grow and result in the industrial prosperity of our commonwealth. I am

Very truly yours
G. N. Child,
Secretary.

Keyville, Utah, March 28, 1906.

Garland Commercial Club,
Garland, Utah,

Gentlemen:

Your communication of March 16th, was presented to the directors of our Commercial Club last evening, and I am directed to say that we heartily approve of your suggestion for exchange of courtesies among Utah Commercial Clubs, and so far as is in our power we shall try and carry out the spirit of your suggestion.

It occurs to us that we should know what response you have from other organizations, so that our membership cards might have on the back a list of the country clubs that are willing to unite in such an arrangement. Perhaps when you have had replies, you could supply us with such list.

We are only a week old and we are homeless as yet, but hope for better things.

Respectfully,
Henry H. Blood,
Secretary.

American Fork, Utah, March 28, 1906.

Garland Commercial Club,
Garland, Utah,

Gentlemen:

Your communication of the 16th inst. regarding the establishment of an exchange of courtesies etc. between the various Commercial Clubs of the state, was received and presented at a meeting of the club last Saturday night March 24, and by unanimous vote of the club, the proposition was approved of and was referred to the committee on membership with instruction to further investigate, and in conjunction with like committee from the various other clubs, make all necessary arrangements to accomplish the object of your communication.

The chairman of this committee is Mr. E. H. Stout, and any communications you may desire to transmit as to your plans to consummate these arrangements, can be addressed to him. Trusting that reciprocal relations may be established between all commercial clubs in the state and wishing The Garland Commercial Club the best of success. We are

Yours very respectfully,
J. W. Storrs,
Secretary.

Up to the hour of going to press no word has been received from the Commercial clubs of Logan, Brigham and other places where letters were sent. No doubt the above mentioned clubs have not met in regular session since the letters were received. Favorable replies are looked for and if received will appear in our next issue.

Arthur Stayner son of the late Arthur Stayner, Sr., the proprietor of the Utah sugar industry in Utah, was in Garland Thursday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Grover.

Shoulder Dislocated.

Joe. Orgal had the misfortune to have his shoulder dislocated Thursday afternoon. He secured a rig at The Garland Livery and drove to the northern part of town. Near Al Grover's residence the rig went down in the mud and the double-trees broke. Mr. Orgal was thrown out striking on his shoulder which was dislocated. Drs. Frank and Green replaced the shoulder and at last reports he is improving.

Beet Culture.

John P. Holmgren, Bear River City.

One of the advanced grades of farming in this section is raising sugar beets, and in this there may be success or there may be failure. The first requisite is fertile soil, of a medium sandy loam, which preferably should be fall plowed, to a depth of eight or nine inches, and not harrowed until spring, as the frost and thaw of winter will aid in pulverizing the surface, and the winter moisture will penetrate to a greater depth, and reduce the number of irrigations the next summer. If spring plowing is done it is well to firm the soil by floating crosswise and lengthwise and harrow it immediately after to return the moisture. The seed bed should be worked until it is fine and mellow, as beet growing is garden culture on an extended scale. Ground on which lucern has grown from five to ten years has fertility sufficient to produce a good yield and particularly if potatoes are grown the first year after lucern, as the roots of the potatoes might be grown first, and this is only to give time for the roots to decay before planting into beets. Beets can be successfully grown the first year after lucern, by gathering off the roots. Put them in a pile and haul them on again next season. They contain excellent fertility.

Planting should be done about April 10, but care should be taken not to plant too early, while the ground is too cold and not too late so that it will not germinate the seed.

The beet is a very hardy plant and will thrive on soil that contains considerable mineral, but naturally yields best on rich loamy soil, which can be made to produce as much as forty tons per acre, though fifteen tons is a very profitable crop. Fifteen pounds of seed to the acre seems to be nearly right, planted from one to one and one-half inches deep. Too deep planting sometimes causes failure. When the beets are up and have four leaves on, thinning should begin. Early thinning is advantageous. Thin from eight to twelve inches apart. About ten days after first thinning begin to second thin. By taking out all double beets, and hoe out all visible weeds, thereby conserving moisture and loosening the soil around the plants. Cultivate five or six times with the horse cultivator before the leaves get too large to interfere. Let the beets suffer before you begin to irrigate, but after beginning see that they get water when necessary. Beet ground should be well leveled.

Fall watering of beet ground lessens the number of irrigations next season. Rotate your farm with lucern, grain and beets. Feed your hay to dairy cows, sell their produce to the creamery. Barnyard fertilizer is worth the value of the hay and grain the cows eat, if hauled on the beet land.—Jesse Farmer.

Information Bureau.

For all kinds of information on politics, religion and finances, call at The Utah Sugar Co's store room about noon every day where these topics are thoroughly discussed. Levi also entertains those present with a spicy story which is very interesting. J. T. Roberts also entertains with lunch—ONE OF THE BOYS.

Rumor is afloat that two of Brigham's sports have applied to the Garland Town Board for permission to pull off an exciting prize fight in this city soon.

Mrs. Leo Clayton was taken to the L. D. S. Hospital at Salt Lake Tuesday for treatment.

Mr. Kirkham of Garland was in Brigham Monday. The musicians of Garland are going to build an Academy of Music and Dancing.—Box Elder Report.

Always Keep Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in His House.

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Lehi city, Mo. That is just what every family should do. When kept at hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. For sale by Ritter Bros. Drug Co.

Join the Club.

There are quite a few men in Garland who have not added their names to the Commercial Club and we clip the following suggestions from an exchange why they should join the club:

1st—Every citizen ought to have a desire in his heart to see his town grow and prosper.

2nd—He ought to desire that its resources should be developed.

3rd—He should desire to see it beautified, parks built, roads made and various improvements made that may be overlooked for years, except for the watchful and interested eyes and minds of those placed on various committees for this purpose.

4th—He should desire to see a united and social atmosphere instead of dissension and bitter feelings among his city's inhabitants.

5th—He should be willing and ready to boost for his town first, last and all time.

6th—As citizens we should get acquainted with each other, that there may be less misunderstandings among us.

These are a few things that the Commercial club will help to accomplish. They can assist the Town Board in many ways by standing at their backs and offering their support in times of need.

Any man who has these desires in his heart is eligible, be he a preacher, professor, professional man, tradesman, merchant or farmer. Join the club and pull hard together for GARLAND.

Undergoes an Operation.

Ursel Rose, of the firm of Grover & Rose, is quietly resting at home this week unable to be at the store as usual by reason of an operation he underwent at Ogden the fore part of last week.

Ever since he was a boy of twelve years he has suffered with a fever sore or White Swelling on his leg just above the ankle. He has sought relief in three or four unsuccessful operations and the diseased member has caused him considerable pain and inconvenience. Dr. Rich of Ogden performed this last operation and in conversation with Mr. Rose he informed us that he has hopes of a speedy recovery. The man's friends of Mr. Rose hope to see him gain his wanted health and strength.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with mothers of small children. It quickly cures coughs, colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. Lehi

The following notes from Lehi Banner March 29nd, will be of interest to friends in this vicinity.

Bert Kirkham of Raymond, Canada, has received a letter from Box "B." John A. Fox, Carlos Schow and Ed Hutchings have received letters from Box "B." They are asked to go at once on missions.

Chas. J. Campbell, at one time a resident of Lehi and agent for the O. S. L. has been made cashier for the Garland Bank at Garland, Utah.

While Mr. and Mrs. Mark Austin were at Rigby attending a banquet given by the Rigby Commercial Club, Mrs. Austin stepped on a sheet of ice and had the misfortune of falling and broke her leg. She had to remain for some time at Rigby, but last reports were that she is getting along as best she could under the circumstances.

Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Itch, Ring Worm, Herpes, Barbers' Itch.

All of these diseases are attended by intense itching, which is almost instantly relieved by applying Chamberlain's Salve, and by its continued use a permanent cure may be effected. It has, in fact, cured many cases that had resisted other treatment. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Ritter Bros. Drug Co.

The Box Elder Report of Mar 28, has a number of items under the head of "Garland Notes" that appeared in the last issue of the Globe—though slightly rearranged. You are welcome to the notes, Brother, but give us the credit mark.

The "Fats" and the "Leans" played a matched game of base ball at the Athletic Park ball grounds yesterday afternoon. The line-up and score will appear next week.

James Kennard and Miss Elizabeth S. Jardine, both of Riverside, were united in marriage at the Logan temple one day this week according to the Logan Journal.

The School Piano Again.

In our last issue we mentioned the fact that the trustees had just installed a new Carstenson & Anson Co. piano in the public school of this place. A number of inquiries whether the trustees intended purchasing pianos for the schools. This district led us to inquire of Mr. Smith, the principal, just where the funds required by the purchase of the piano came from. He said: "It came about in this way. Last fall I mentioned the fact that the school had no music instrument of any kind to a number of influential persons in the town, especially to Mr. Mosiah Evans. He thought it possible to raise by subscription at least a good portion of the amount needed to purchase an instrument, and immediately guaranteed to raise at least $75 at the factory. I circulated another subscription blank myself. Mr. O. L. Winters headed the list with a good sum. At that time Mr. Lewis was appointed trustee to succeed Mr. Capener and he was asked to get, if possible, an appropriation from the district. He succeeded in doing so March 18, 1906, and the piano was purchased. It is a regular $400 instrument but because of the advertising advantage the firm sold it somewhat cheaper. Of the amount paid I raised $75 by subscription and entertainment. The school board gave $150 and the balance was given by the factory people. It was a cash deal and Mr. Evans did the purchasing. Some of the money subscribed has not yet been paid but there is no one on the list so little as to refuse to pay. It was an effort for the children's benefit and no one is injured in anyway."

We compliment the Board of Trustees for the substantial way in which they are encouraging the efforts of their teachers to benefit the schools. There is no doubt out that any school in this district can obtain an instrument if they will raise half the funds for the same.

Editor Norman Lee of the Box Elder News, accompanied by his wife, leaves the fore part of April for a trip to California with the Utah Press Association.

Hon. Frank D. Hobbs, who has filled the office of Registrar of the U. S. Land Office at Salt Lake City for a number of years past, has been reappointed to that position. We extend congratulations.

Have Factory, Want Man.

The Merchants and Manufacturers' association has been on a still hunt for a thoroughly experienced starch-maker for some time, with no success. Yesterday the "stillness" of the hunt was broken with the hope that some man who is capable of installing the machinery for a starch factory at Garland and can manage the plant after it is equipped, would enable the association to place starch on the list of Utah-made products to recommend for general use.

The renowned starch trust had controlled the local market ever since starch was used in the state, and a New York label or a Kansas trade mark are becoming more offensive every day to those who are especially interested in the movement advocating the growth of home industries.

Gordon H. Place, manager of the association, says the Garland people have financed their starch factory and are prepared to buy machinery and start work as soon as a manager can be hired. —Inter-Mountain Republican.

Base Ball.

Letters have been sent out by the Base Ball Committee of this city to the managers of Base Ball teams throughout the county in hopes of getting them together in a meeting today to organize a league. No reply forthcoming as we go to press so we are unable to state what arrangements have been made.

Wanted:—A correspondent to send us a few items weekly from each of the following places:—Deweyville, Riverside, Elwood, Pt. Lookout, Thatcher, Penrose, Washakie, Collinston, Bear River City, Tremont and other surrounding places. Your town ought to be represented in this paper. Why not interest yourself in telling us what is doing? We will send the paper free to all correspondents and give you some paper and envelopes if you will act. Write us a letter for publication and help us build up the Great Bear River Valley.
